Judge Halts Transfer of 2 Teachers From PHS; School Board to Appeal

Lawrence Ivan and Thomas Murray, physical education teachers in the Princeton schools who do not want to be transferred away from Princeton High School, have won a favorable ruling from an administrative law judge, but Princeton's school board has asked the New Jersey Commissioner of Education, Fred G. Burke, to overturn the ruling.

Judge August E. Thomas issued an injunction last week prohibiting the school board from transferring Mr. Ivan and Mr. Murray.

Superintendent Paul Houston said this week that the board hopes Commissioner Burke will act by September 1. If he doesn't, the superintendent said, the board will have to abide by the judge's ruling. School starts September 9 and the teachers have to know where to report.

Three other physical education teachers – two now in the middle school and one in Littlebrook – were also transferred, but did not contest the action.

Judge Thomas said the school board might not have acted properly in the transfers of Mr. Murray and Mr. Ivan because they were made after Lisa Madden, daughter of school board president Dale Madden, had been given a failing grade by Mr. Murray.

"The medical excuse was that the pupil had infectious mono-hepatitis; however, the teachers' allegation is that the pupil attended her other classes," the judge stated in his report.

Dr. Houston explained that John Sakala, principal of the high school, changed Ms. Madden's grade to "passing." Mr. Murray then filed a grievance, but he withdrew it after Mr. Sakala said he would, in the future, confer in more detail with the teacher involved when he changed a grade after receiving explanatory information.

"The transfers of gym teachers had no relationship whatever to the Madden situation," Dr. Houston says. "The teachers think that is why they were moved. They've been told that wasn't the reason, but they don't believe it. It was not a factor in my decision and certainly not a factor in the board's decision.

"I think Lisa Madden's rights were violated. What had she done to have her name drawn into the newspapers and into all this publicity? We were trying to keep that from happening. Besides, Larry Ivan was never a party to that grievance.

"The issue is bigger than this dispute," the superintendent continued. "The issue is – does the school board have the right to transfer teachers within the teachers' areas of expertise? The board voted 9-0 for those transfers."

Dr. Houston explained that he transferred the five physical education teachers to provide both teachers and schools with a fresh outlook and new perspectives. He pointed out that he has done this with principals and teachers, "and it has been successful."

"In Japan, for example, where people have lifetime employment – just as our teachers have life-time

More Than 400 Tax Appeals Filed by Home Owners Tax Revolt Group Wants Revaluation Thrown Out

The deadline for filing a tax appeal has passed. Assessor Stuart Robson Jr. will continue to confer with taxpayers who filed appeals, going over their documents to see whether actual mistakes were made by the P.R.C. Jacobs firm, or whether it's just a difference of opinion, and if it is a difference of opinion, whether assessor and property-owner can agree. If they can, there is a "consent judgment," the county lowers the taxes and there is no hearing.

Bizarre stories of mistakes continue to be told. The Township property-owners who found they had been assessed for a swimming pool they didn't have discovered last week they'd been assessed $9,000 for a second living-room they didn't have.

Actually, it's a two-car garage. But they'd hung curtains in the garage window and they suspect the Jacobs' employee saw "curtains" and thought "living room."

Another householder was assessed for non-existent radiant heating and a garbage disposal. The house is part of a development. Originally, all the houses had these two features, but over the years most owners have removed them. This owner did say that his assessment, compared with the assessments of six neighbors, was about the same.

Mr. Robson counted 210 appeals filed in the Borough and an estimated 200 in the Township. He anticipates a few more, especially in the Borough, as property-owners who met the county's Monday deadline at the last minute, bring their duplicate appeal forms to his office.

There are 2,000 "line items," or properties, in the Borough so the rate is about 10 percent; in the Township, where there are 4,000 line items, the rate is about five percent. Mr. Robson says these percentages are about normal, after a revaluation.

Mercer County's tax office has until November 15 to hear all the appeals and wind up the entire process. Although Princeton taxpayers have been wondering whether the county can meet that deadline considering the number of appeals, spokesmen for the county's tax office say there will be no problem. It is not the first time the office has received hundreds of appeals.

A board of three tax commissioners, plus the tax administrator and the assessor of the municipality involved – Mr. Robson -- sits for the hearings. Property-owners who appealed will be notified by mail of the hearing date.

Petition Seeks November Referendum for Spring Street Garage

"I'm not just anti-anti-anti, and I'm not even sure how I'll vote on this in November, but I think it's a decision that shouldn't be made by just a handful of people."

John Miller, chief spokesman for those who want the Spring Street garage passed on by the voters in November, has a crew of about 30 solicitors, who are asking property-owners to sign the required petition.

Last Tuesday, Borough Council passed, 4-1, the $105,000 bond ordinance to pay for design of the garage. Charles Cornforth voted "no" and Richard Woodbridge was absent.

Although Mr. Miller told Council last Tuesday that his chief worry is the possible tax burden of the new garage, he is finding allies among people who don't want Princeton Community Housing's project to be built on the library site, and people who prefer an expanded public library to the PCH apartments. The garage on Spring is required, if the apartments are built, because the building will take up space now occupied by the parking lot next to the library.

If Mr. Miller and his group obtain the signatures they need, the Borough cannot go ahead and hire an architect to design the garage until – and unless – voters approve the garage design bond issue in November.

Incidentally, there was a question at first about whether such a referendum is possible under New Jersey law; however, Mr. Miller's group has found a pair of enabling statutes. Kester Pierson, acting for Borough attorney Edwin Schmierer, who is on vacation, says the group can indeed get the question on the ballot, if the statutes are followed.

"I wouldn't call this a 'referendum,'" he said. "It's a statutory right to have a proposed expenditure voted on by the electorate."

It's a clumsy process, and not simply a matter of obtaining a certain number of signatures. According to the law, Mr. Miller and his committee must obtain the signatures of taxpayers who represent ten percent of the assessed valuation of the municipality.

The Borough's taxable valuation is $356,251,642. Ten percent of that is $35 million, approximately. Mr. Miller, to be on the safe side, is thinking in terms of $40 million.

This means his committee must go to the Borough tax office from time to time to add up the assessed valuations of people who have signed the petition. Presumably, when $35 or $40 million is reached, canvassers will stop.

The deadline is ten days from publication of the ordinance after its passage. Publication is scheduled for this Wednesday. The ten-day period expires Saturday, August 29. Since Borough Hall is closed on Saturdays, the deadline is Monday, August 31.

However, both Mr. Miller and the Borough want to be sure the question is on the November ballot, and not on a later, special-election ballot. With that in mind, Mr. Miller's group hopes to have its signatures at Borough Hall August 27 or 28.

"We want to obtain the signatures of a broad representation of the Borough," Mr. Miller said this week. "We're not zeroing in on one section of town. We want not just the big property-owners, but the owners of moderate properties as well."

Mr. Miller said he would like to have the Borough "leave things as they are" until the Collins garage on Chambers is near completion. He has also suggested the Borough might add a deck to the present ground-level parking on the Spring Street site, then another level, if that were needed, and so on.

The Borough's challenged garage would not provide many more spaces than are now available on its site and the PCH site. Asked whether he would be more comfortable with the larger garage once discussed by Council, Mr. Miller said "I doubt it."

He also said that, speaking for himself, his feelings about the PCH project "are not so intense they would affect my vote one way or another about the garage."

He said he believed that Borough residents didn't know enough yet about the proposed garage.

"I had one property-owner confess, 'I'm so ill-informed.' I think that between now and November, we have a chance to obtain the data, and inform the voters."

Teacher Transfer

tenure — they move people around between jobs and situations. It helps both the people and the particular department," the superintendent observed.

He suggested as an example, that a high school teacher might have been expecting students to know certain things. Upon transfer to the middle school, the teacher might discover that children weren't being taught the things high school teachers expected them to know.

"I look on the transfers as a kind of therapeutic action for the phys. ed. department," Dr. Houston remarked. "I don't agree that you can have rapport only with a certain age of student. Larry Ivan has rapport with all ages of kids."

The presentation before Judge Thomas consisted of charges made by the two teachers, and denial by the board. Dr. Houston said there was no hearing and no testimony. A formal hearing will still be held, he said, after Commissioner Burke makes his decision.

Transferred teachers keep the same salary and retain their seniority and tenure.

RENT BOARD TO MEET

In First Session. The Borough's new Rent Registration Board, established under the community's new rent ordinance, will hold its first meeting next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in Borough Hall. So far, there is no firm agenda; however, the new board is expected to organize, and elect a chair.

The ordinance provides for a five-member board. Mayor Robert W. Cawley still has one more appointment to make, a member in the home-owner category. The four members chosen so far are Keith Carter, 201 John Street, landlord; Pierina Thayer, 9 Pine Street, tenant; and Jerome Melnick, 23 Gordon Way and Ann Yasuhara, 66 Pine, both home-owners.

The board secretary will be Linda Feldstein, rent co-ordinator.

Borough and Collins Reach an Agreement On Financing of Chambers Street Garage

It may be a while before the first car moves through the gate, but the Borough and Collins Development have reached a "meeting of minds," according to Borough Council member Richard Macgill, on financing the Chambers Street garage.

Ironically, since Collins doesn't even own the land on which the garage will be built, the structure will be the first move, as Collins begins to fill in the Square.

"The important thing is that this garage must be no financial burden to the Borough whatsoever," Mr. Macgill emphasized, after a meeting last week attended by Mayor Robert W. Cawley, Collins vice-president James Harvie, Borough attorney Edwin Schmierer and Mr. Macgill.

The Borough owns the land, except for a portion owned by Eric Mihan. The Borough will borrow the money, because a municipality can get money cheaper than a private developer, but Collins will pay the Borough all the financing costs.

At $5,500 to $6,000 per parking space, the garage will cost an estimated $3 million for about 500 spaces.

In addition, Collins will re-imburse the Borough for revenue lost when the present Park and Shop lot is no longer on the site. Collins will also pay the Borough the amount the municipality will lose in taxes because the garage, as a municipal facility, will be taxfree. A commercial garage would pay taxes.

"The Borough is doing Collins a substantial favor," Mr. Macgill remarked, "getting them parking at tax-exempt rates."

The Borough will introduce an ordinance — Mr. Macgill hopes on August 27 — to borrow money to pay an architect and financial consultant. The consultant will provide financial advice on the best way to handle the transactions. Mr. Macgill said the Borough has been talking with two investment banking firms with experience in municipal projects like garages. No decision has yet been made on which firm will be chosen.

Last week, Council introduced an ordinance allowing smaller parking spaces for off-street parking. Presumably, this could mean more cars squeezed into the Chambers Street building. Public hearing will be September 8.

"I don't foresee any impediments to any of this," Mr. Macgill said, "but progress will be slow. The important thing is that there will be no period, at any time, when the taxpayer will have to pay anything."

WEDDING RINGS STOLEN

From Hospital Patient. A diamond engagement ring in a platinum setting valued at $3,000 and a $115 platinum wedding band were removed last week from the finger of a comatose patient at the Princeton Medical Center, according to Borough police.

Captain Theodore Lewis reported that the victim, a resident of Rossmoor, had been admitted in an "unconscious, comatose state." Her husband, he continued, had wanted to remove the rings when the victim was admitted. However, a nurse advised waiting until the patients was conscious, after they had a problem trying to get the rings off.

"Someone didn't have any problem," commented Capt. Lewis. The rings were removed sometime between 3:45 in the afternoon and 12:30 the following afternoon.

A Lawrenceville resident lost $40 to $60, her check book and credit cards when someone removed a nylon wallet from her pocketbook which she had left on a table Monday afternoon at the public library.

Thursday night at the Community Park tennis courts, a Princeton resident lost $110, personal papers and credit cards, after his wallet was removed from a tennis bag which he had left near the court. The theft was reported at 11 p.m.

There were two victims when a thief entered a van parked in Marquand Park Monday between 9:30 in the morning and 1:30 p.m.

One lost a brown leather handbag valued at $20. Inside were two pairs of eyeglasses worth $200 and a leather wallet containing $10.25 and credit cards. The second victim lost a $10 brown beach bag containing a beach towel and keys. Police said the victims were from Princeton and Cranbury.

A red Motobecane moped valued at $750 was stolen between 4 Friday afternoon and 9 Saturday morning from in front of Jay's Cycles, 249 Nassau Street. The owner is a resident of Plainsboro.

Also taken from Jay's, according to police, was a dirt-type bicycle, belonging to a Township youth, which is valued at $200. It was parked in front of Jay's about 5 Saturday and discovered missing shortly thereafter.

Police also reported two other bike thefts listed in the police docket. A man's 10-speed was taken between 5 and 5:40 Friday afternoon from a College Road garage, and a woman's 10-speed model was stolen the same day from a bike rack in front of 79 Prospect.

WATER RATES UP?

Elizabethtown Requests. A rate increase which would mean about $8 more per quarter for the average customer, has been requested by Elizabethtown Water, which serves Princeton and 40 other communities in five counties.

The request for the $12.8 million increase has been filed with the Board of Public Utilities. The company expects that it will be several months before all the testimony has been heard, and a decision rendered.

Also, Elizabethtown expects that the Public Utilities Commission will hold a hearing in September on the company's appeal from

Water Supply, at 75% Capacity, Is Near Normal for August

Reservoirs belonging to Elizabethtown Water in the northern part of the state are at 75.7 percent of their storage capacity, according to figures assembled by Thomas Cawley, vice-president for operations for Elizabethtown. The normal percentage for this time of year is 78 percent, Mr. Cawley said.

These reservoirs are important for Princeton, he pointed out, because it was their low water supply that caused the state to ration Princeton and other communities last winter.

"There is a sufficient water supply for Princeton now," Mr. Cawley stated.

Spruce Run reservoir, used by Elizabeth, is now at 95 percent of capacity; a year ago, it was also at 95 percent of capacity and two years ago, it was brim-ful at 100 percent.

The Round Valley reservoir is currently at 81.1 percent of capacity. This compares to 95.8 a year ago and 99.3 in 1979, Mr. Cawley reported.

Lack of storage facilities and piping make it impossible to bring an unlimited amount of water south to Princeton from reservoirs in the northern part of the state, Mr. Cawley said. He added that planning Board rejection of the proposed water tank on Mt. Lucas has meant a delay in providing storage for this area.

It is now hard to get water from the canal, he said, because it is so choked with weeds. A public hearing on dredging the canal will be held in September, but Mr. Cawley said that no work can be done until next year.

Princeton Planning Board rejection of a water tank on Mt. Lucas Road.

The company's need for more money isn't entirely related to the fact that people are using less water, says Walter C. Money, vice-president of Elizabethtown. Usage dropped sharply during the rationing of last winter and spring, and householders have kept their frugal habits.

"Reduced consupmption accounts for only about 10 or 11 percent of our requested increase," Mr. Money said. "We're glad people are using water more wisely."

The high cost of high finance is a big item, Mr. Money said. Also, such operating expenses as electric power, postage, telephone service and labor have all increased "materially."

Elizabethtown plans to spend $3.5 million this year in routine expenses involving replacement or repair of hydrants, meters, and so on, Mr. Money said. In addition, $3.75 million will be spent on major construction, including that water tank on Mt. Lucas Road — if the company wins its case — and main extensions in Princeton. Another $4 million is allotted to filter plants, settling basins and the like.

"We're a 128-year-old company," Mr. Money remarked. "We have a constant need to upgrade."

The $12.8 million in increased rates represents a revenue increase of almost 32 percent, the company says. The average customer uses 2,600 cubic feet (19,500 gallons) a quarter. The increase would be about 66 cents a week, or $7.92 a quarter.

RATE HIKE PROPOSED

By Suburban Bus. New York commuters who take the bus from Princeton to Manhattan will find their round trip fare increased from $7.35 to $8.15 if Suburban Transit's rate increase is approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The increase would be effective September 14. The bus company says that the fares are necessary "due to increased costs for wages, employee benefits, materials, supplies, utilities, insurance, and other items."

Under the proposed increases, which apply only to interstate travel, the one-way fare from Princeton to New York would increase from $4.10 to $4.30. Ten-trip tickets, good for any 20-day period, would be raised from $31.90 to $34.40. Forty-trip tickets, good for one month, would increase from $103 to $120.40.

Anyone may protest to the ICC and request suspension of the increased fares by submitting notice to the ICC in Washington, D.C., at least 12 days before the effective date of the new fares. A copy of the protest also must be sent simultaneously to Suburban Transit Corporation, 750 Somerset Street, New Brunswick 08901.

$3,000 WINDOW BROKEN

At Bank Branch. A sunscreen window at the First National Bank branch office, 370 Nassau Street, was broken last week by an unknown object.

Police report that the 12 by 5-foot window, which faces Nassau Street, is valued at $3,000. The vandalism took place between 6 in the evening and 8:10 the following morning.

The right window was shattered and door dented on a car parked last week at the Princeton Shopping Center.

The owner, a Trenton resident who is also an employee in one of the stores at the center, told police that he discovered the malicious damage to his 1979 sedan at midnight Saturday. He had parked his car behind the Acme Market at 10:30 that morning. Police said that the damage was caused by BB pellets which were recovered at the scene.

CAR STRIKES TREE

Driver Is Injured. Eighteen-year-old Derrick J. Ashcroft of 81 Pheasant Hill Road suffered a head injury last week when his car went out of control on a Pretty Brook Road curve and struck a large tree. Mr. Ashcroft was treated at Princeton Medical Center for a head fracture.

The victim told Sgt. Michael Kopliner that as he was rounding a curve a half-mile from Phesant Hill Road at 1:25 Sunday morning, two cars coming in the opposite direction were in his lane, causing him to lose control. His car crossed the center line and went over the shoulder area of the roadway before striking the tree.

Police described his 1975 sedan as a total loss. There were no charges by Sgt. Kopliner.

This is a particularly good time to think about the addition of some new trees and shrubs to your property. If you've lost some to winter injury, insects, or drought and want to replace one or two plants, take heed of some important hints and warnings!

Check to be sure which trees do well in our part of the world! It's pointless to try and force growth and health from a species that just hates it here. Look around at the healthiest looking trees in the area, check the flourishing wooded sections, and then choose what appeals to you. Also, whatever color the tree wears this fall in the nursery is the color it will wear for life, consider this if color is a factor in your choice!

Now that you have your new addition home, prepare the soil outside the hole where the root ball will be placed. The clay soil in our area is very unreceptive to new trees, and requires breaking up and aeration to promote new root growth after planting. Mix a good tree food into the loosened soil, and include some compost, peat moss, or forest humus. Do not use lawn fertilizer!

Plant the new tree at exactly the same ground level that it enjoyed in the nursery never any more than an inch deeper. Transplanted roots need to breathe air.

Soak the soil thoroughly with water every ten days, whether or not there is regular rainfall.

NEVER plant a medium or large tree species within fifteen feet of a building foundation, sidewalk, driveway or utility trench.

Be sure that the nursery provides a good amount of soil (root ball) around the roots of the new tree. The ball should be TEN TIMES the diameter of the trunk.

SPECIAL NOTE: Until the day-long rains of autumn start, be sure that you get plenty of water to the roots of your trees. Thunder showers may green up lawns, but with our soil in the Princeton area, rain takes hours to penetrate to roots! After the damage done by last year's drought, the extra-special effort required to keep your trees watered is really essential.

TWO ARE CHARGED With Drunk Driving. Princeton police last week charged two motorists with driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Ethel McCullock, 49, 21 Butternut Row, was stopped at 10 in the evening last week by Ptl. John Seeley, after he observed her driving in an erratic manner on Alexander Street.

Dawn Rogers, 20, of Huntington Beach, Calif., was stopped at 2:14 Sunday morning on Tulane Street by Sgt. Peter Hanley and Ptl. Mark Stillitano, after the officers observed her allegedly driving in an erratic manner. Rogers was given a breath test by Sgt. Hanley, charged, and later released in $250 bail.

Speeder Stopped. Maurice Still, 41, of Hartford, Conn., was stopped early Monday morning by Patrolmen Randy Sutton and Michael Taylor for speeding on Hodge Road.

Still was also charged with possession of a controlled dangerous substance after police, during his processing, uncovered a small plastic bag containing suspected marijuana. He was issued a complaint summons on both charges and released.

Another Hartford resident, 18-year-old William J. Kennedy, was arrested here early last week by Township juvenile officer Jerry Offredo and charged with receiving stolen property.

According to Det. Offredo, Kennedy was in possession of a 1975 station wagon that had been stolen in Hartford. The youth was processed by police and later sent to the Mercer County Detention Center in lieu of $2,500 bail. The stolen car was returned to its owner.

SEVEN ARE FINED In Traffic Court. Seven Princeton area residents were fined Monday in Borough traffic court, four for speeding. They are Harold M. Tanner, 354 Cold Soil Road, $20; Maire Chuiv, 117 Mercer Street, $31; Ronald L. Orcutt, Studio Canal Road, $22, and Sydnor B. Penick, Elm Lane, $20.

Fines of $35 each were levied by Judge Russell W. Annich Jr. against Dorothy B. Moore, Montgomery Road, Skillman, failure to yield right of way; Gregory H. Moore, 34 Oak Branch Road, Cranbury, red light; and Dulcie Ragoonath, 98 Leigh Avenue, stop sign.

Township Court. In Township traffic court last week, Judge Sydney Souter fined Robert C. Urublevski, 113 Hun Road, and Remington Johnston Jr., 8 Lancashire Drive, Princeton Junction, $40 each for careless driving.

Wilbert Loiseau, 9 Maple Terrace, paid $25 for having no license or registration in possession.

SENIOR CITIZENS DAY At State Fair. Admission will be free to all senior citizens when the New Jersey State Fair holds its annual "Senior Citizens Day" on Thursday, September 17. The Fair will be held on Route 33 in Hamilton Township. Free tickets may be obtained by writing Senior Citizens Day Committee, New Jersey State Fair, P.O. Box 8174, Trenton, N.J. 08650, or calling 609-587-6300.

At 2 p.m. there will be an hour of musical performances and dancing by seniors ranging in age from 65 to 90. In addition, Fair officials have arranged for special exhibits, displays and programs designed for seniors.

The day will also be Governor's Day at the Fair. Governor Brendan T. Byrne and his colleagues have been invited to the Fair to meet the senior citizens.

BEHIND BARS

In Two Films. The inmate and the warden, even a reformist warden, look at prison life from slightly different and differing points of view, as the two Summer Cinema films for this week make clear. The double bill will be shown at Kresge Auditorium this Wednesday through Sunday, starting at 7:30 each night.

"Escape from Alcatraz" features Clint Eastwood as one of the few — there were only three — to escape from the maximum security prison in San Francisco Bay. None of the three, by the way, was ever heard of again. Eastwood's character is Frank Morris, a real-life bank robber who masterminded the break from Alcatraz in 1962.

"Brubaker" has Robert Redford as a reformist prison warden fighting corruption and refusing to compromise. The story is modeled on the career of the Arkansas penologist Thomas Murton.

CASTING CALL

If you would like a part in "Shadow Box," the first play of the season for Princeton Community Players, you are invited to audition Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, September 1, 2 and 3 at PCP's theatre, 171 Broadmead in Princeton.

"Shadow Box;; will be given in preview at Mill Hill Playhouse in Trenton on October 16, 17 and 18 and will open formally at the PCP theatre on October 23, playing for three week-ends.

The play requires three men in the 20-40 year age bracket, a young man 10 to 15 years old, three women 30 to 40 years old and one woman over 60.

Appointments for an audition should be made with Nick Procaccino, 921-2239, between 9 a.m. and 9 p.m.

'CINDERELLA' CLOSES

After This Week. Princeton Street Theatre will perform its final run of performances for the 1981 season this week. "Cinderella, Cinderella" will be performed at Spruce Circle (Princeton Senior Resource Center) on Wednesday, Riverside School on Thursday, the Wycoff School in Plainsboro on Friday, and at Princeton High on Saturday. All shows begin at 7:30 and will run about 45 minutes.

"Cinderella, Cinderella" is an audience participation play with the audience helping Cinderella dress for the ball, finding magic wands, keeping slippers and even dancing at the ball. Jena Herzog and William Hollister are stage managers. Jaclyn Ferraro designed the set and Anne-Marie Willis and Jon Curtiss built it.

Princeton Street Theatre had a successful performance of "Rimers of Eldritch" in Central Park, Manhattan, last Saturday. The rain held off until the last few minutes. The show will be taped to determine the feasibility of producing it for cable television.

For information, call 924-7452.

FESTIVAL!

.McCarter and Art Association. "Art Sunday," a Festival of the Visual and Performing Arts will be held Sunday, September 13 from 1 to 5 under the joint sponsorship of McCarter Theatre and the Princeton Art Association.

McCarter will be holding its First Annual Open House, with back-stage tours, a chance to meet a real live actor, slide-tape presentations, the Company Store and a place where children can sign up for auditions for "A Christmas Carol."

Upstairs at McCarter, the Princeton Art Association will open its first major exhibit of the season -- the 1980 Award Winners Show. For this Sunday only, there will also be an invitational Outdoor Sculpture Show.

At the Rosedale Road studios of the Art Association, there will be demonstrations of portraiture, graphics, sketching and pottery.

Hands-on exhibits for children will be provided, also.

'CAROUSEL'

tn New Hope. Rodgers and Hammerstein's bittersweet "Carousel" is now on stage at the Bucks County Playhouse, opening this Wednesday and scheduled to play through August 30. The Playhouse is in New Hope, Pennsylvania.

AND IN SEPTEMBER ...

Shakespeare, Moliere, Etc.

"Cymbeline," "Tartuffe" and the Gospel According to St. Mark will be part of the scene during September at the New Jersey Shakespeare Festival in Madison.

"Cymbeline" will be staged September 1, 2, 4 and 6, Tuesday through Sunday under the direction of Paul Barry. Mid-way, it will be joined by Moliere's farce, "Tartuffe," also directed by Mr. Barry and hooked for September 3, 5 and 8. John Osborne's drama, "The Entertainer," will play September 22 through 30, starring Mr. Barry and directed by Ronald Martell.

The Festival's Monday evening series in September will present Eric Booth in Alec McCowen's retelling of the Gospel According to St. Mark on September 7. On September 14, the All Nations Dance Company, a young, multi-ethnic professional troupe, will present "Joy in Every Land."

"Kazoophony," described as "an alleged cultural event" and musical spoof, will be on stage Monday, September 21. The Kaminski International Kazoo Quartet will perform. The final September Monday — the 28th — will be devoted to dance and other works by Senta Driver.

Performance time is 8, Monday through Friday; 6 and 9:30 on Saturday and 7 on Sunday. Reservations may be made at 201-377-4487.

THREE FOR KIDS

In Pennington. Three "Movies for Kids" will be shown next Tuesday morning in the Hopewell Township branch of the Mercer County Library. The branch is located at the Pennington Square Shopping Center on Route 31.

The one-hour show will start at 10:30. Movies to be shown are "Soup for President," "Anatole" and "Baseball Gloves, Baseballs and Baseball Bats." Admission is free.

IN ROCKY HILL ...

Movies for Kids. Children in two age groups will form the audiences for two programs of free movies at the Mary Jacobs Library, Rocky Hill.

Next Tuesday, children between three and one-half and six, may watch "The Wind-2," "The Wizard," "Walter, the Lazy Mouse," "Magpie Madness" and "Madeline and the Gypsies." The program will begin at 10 a.m. and last until 11.

On Thursday, August 27, the library will show two films for children age seven and up. The program, from 3 p.m. to 4, will consist of "Hardware Wars" and "The Making of Star Wars."

ALL IN THE FAMILY

Circus Life. It's daddy with the animal act, big brother the juggler and little brother — with big brother — on unicycle. The family of Dick Kohlrieser helps to keep the action active at the Great American Circus, due in at the Shopping Center for performances next Monday at 5:30 and 8 p.m. The Chamber of Commerce is the sponsor.

Daddy Dick used to ride the rodeo circuit, but it's a young man's game and after several years, he decided to train animals instead of ride them. "Kohl's Dog Pound Revue" had eight mongrels chased by a crazy dog-catcher — Kohlrieser himself. He moved from mongrels to a llama, a camel, a pony with a monkey on its back ("Monkey Shines Caper") and finally, the Pony Liberty Act, with two black and two white ponies.

Son Mike shrugged off the animals and turned to the juggler's art. You'll see him juggle five ping-pong balls out of his mouth. Later, he joins his ten-year-old brother, Steve, who had thought up a unicycle act. In the Kohl Brothers Unicycle Wizardry they do tricks on unicycles ranging in height from one to ten feet.

Scrap PCH Proposal.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

I have talked to many Borough residents of all ages regarding the proposed PCH location and the garage Borough Council wants to construct. I wish to present the following opinions on the location and garage.

First and foremost, psychologists tell us that it is much healthier for older people to remain in their own homes, in familiar surroundings than to live in a PCH type institution. The Borough, County and State should help them do this, rather than uprooting them, putting them into new surroundings, especially into an enclosed, CBD midtown area.

Secondly, has anyone considered the inevitable deterioration of our CBD that would be caused by the additions proposed? Old people do get older, with all the attending physical and mental problems, such as slow mobility, poor eyesight, loss of hearing, strokes and senility. CBD auto traffic near the PCH location would come to a standstill as these people try to move about, as drivers feared for the safety of PCH residents.

Thirdly, how many of the residents of PCH would be financially able to shop in the expensive CBD or able to buy the goodies they see displayed? Lastly, the design of the PCH building is far too institutional in appearance for the center of town, even with limited space allowed for trees, gardens or benches. The PCH building and grounds would be a real eyesore.

My hope, and that of my friends and neighbors, is that the logical decision be made to scrap the PCH project in the CBD location and the proposed CBD costly garage that would raise property taxes around $100,000 annually for the next 20 years. We don't need either PCH or a new, nearby CBD garage.

If $4,000,000 HUD might make available for building new housing for the elderly is to be utilized effectively, why not build in a more attractive, suitable location, perhaps nearer the Princeton Shopping Center? Here the elderly would have easy access to shops, more space for gardens and more green open space.

Maybe an even more preferable solution would be to use this $4,000,000 to help subsidize those elderly Princeton Borough residents, who need financial help to stay in their homes, rather than force them to move out of Princeton because of ever increasing property taxes? Why force these people living on limited, fixed incomes to pay more taxes to build a garage near the CBD location of PCH when this can be avoided by relocating PCH elsewhere, relocating PCH in a more suitable site?

I sincerely hope that the voters and taxpayers of Princeton Borough will take the opinions expressed into consideration in urging Borough Council and PCH to scrap the present PCH and new garage proposal.

Paramedic Jobs at Stake.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

The following is a letter I have written to Mayor Cawley and Borough Council:

I am writing in regard to your lack of financial support for the daytime paramedic program.

Last week my partner and I received notice making official a problem we've lived with for a year. As of September 25th, unless your present position changes, Princeton will lose its weekday advanced life support, its guarantee of quick-response basic life support, and we will be out of jobs.

I don't question your awareness of the consequences or your commitment to the community. I am well aware of the problems of a low budget.

Also, I am not writing to personally defend our jobs — I hope there are people in the community who will support our positions more effectively and without the vested interest of staying employed (unfortunately, most take emergency medical services, like most public services, for granted until needed).

I am, however, asking for some consideration when you meet on this matter. While I certainly hope you decide to continue the program, I ask, whatever your decision, that it be permanent.

Please don't continue with a half-way, semi-annual allotment of funds. Personally, this is a difficult way to live and I find this a difficult way to work. I like my job, I'm good at it, and I would like to stay with it, but if the question is to be resolved, please make a permanent decision.

I would like also to point out that if you drop the program now and at some later date realize you've made a mistake you will, in all probability, have lost two highly qualified, well-educated paramedics who have worked together for over a year and are oriented to, and recognized in, your community.

Thank you for your time.

KEVIN KELTY
MICP, Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad

Thanks for Playgrounds.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

Following is the text of a letter we have sent to Donald Barr, Director of the Princeton Recreation Department:

We would like to thank you and your staff for running such a successful summer playground program, which our two children have enjoyed for the two years we have lived in Princeton.

We were very sorry to read in your comments to TOWN TOPICS, August 5, 1981, that attendance is off in this program and that you have received opposition to the five dollar registration fee.

We hope the following observations will help not only in your retaining the program, but also the registration fee. The children get excellent supervision and individualized attention in the organized games and crafts. They get to know other children in their neighborhood and other neighborhoods through the intramural events.

The registration fee of five dollars is nominal for these benefits: for a six week period it is three cents an hour; for a seven week period it is two and one half cents an hour. Even for one week at eighteen cents an hour, or a day at 91 cents an hour it is a bargain!

Parking Garage Vote Sought.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

Tax revolt? You bet! Borough taxpayers, angered and frustrated are saying "enough is enough." Let taxpayers and voters decide whether or not they are willing to pay additional property taxes to build a parking garage at taxpayer expense with no increase in the number of parking spaces currently available.

Four members of Borough Council voted to erect a garage on Spring Street to replace the Library parking lot which will be lost to us if PCH builds its "institutional building" there. At a projected cost of 5 percent or more added to each taxpayer's tax rate annually to pay for the garage, it just doesn't make sense, especially when the garage is admittedly a "Loser" with the garage operating in the red for the first five to 10 years. To go from a handsome profit on the present lots to a yearly loss on the new garage plus increased taxes is no bargain for struggling taxpayers.

A group of concerned property owners has been formed to force Borough Council to place the Garage Bond Ordinance on the next general election ballot or on a special election ballot so that voters can approve or reject the ordinance ... New Jersey State laws permit this form of referendum. If a majority of voters reject the Bond Ordinance, the garage cannot be built and Borough taxpayers will avoid the increased taxes such a garage would require.

If you agree with us that voters have the right to approve or reject expensive unnecessary expenditures for a garage that will cause taxes to go up, please join us. We need your active support to put the question to the voters. We won't ask for money, just for your endorsement of a Tax Protest Petition being circulated in the Borough ... please call me at 924-5287 and we will tell you how you can help.

JOHN B. MILLER
123 Patton Avenue

Thank You, Mr. Robson.
To the Editor, Town Topics:

Like so many other residents of Princeton Township, my husband and I found appraiser's errors in our tax assessment which made it necessary to confer with Stuart Robson, the tax assessor. He was most helpful, and took time, despite the angry hordes waiting to see him, to clarify our situation and advise us how to proceed.

Mr. Robson, and the other personnel of the Township tax office, have exhibited remarkable grace under pressure during this trying period. It is not easy to deal with irate and worried people day after day, and we wish to thank them for their understanding and conscientiousness.

Clubs and Organizations

The Princeton Scuba Club will meet Wednesday, August 26, at 7 for a barbecue at 47 Brooktree Road, East Windsor. The grill will be provided.

La Leche League of Princeton has scheduled informal meetings for discussion on breastfeeding and parenting. All interested persons, including pregnant women and nursing mothers with their babies, are welcome. "Breastfeeding: Getting It All Together" will be the topic of the discussion Tuesday at 8 at 181 Mt. Lucas Road.

In addition to its monthly discussion groups, La Leche League has a free lending library and 24-hour telephone support. For information call Jackie Vedder, 799-2189, or Lyn Hamilton, 921-2923.

Gay People, Princeton, will meet Thursday at 8 in the Unitarian Church, Cherry Hill and State Roads. Dr. Charles Hitchcock will discuss "The Education Project of the National Gay Task Force." Dr. Hitchcock is an educator and professor from Southampton College of Long Island University and founder of the East End Gay Organization in Eastern Long Island.

HOME IS RANSACKED

On Evelyn Place In Daylight. Twelve Hummel figurines from a family room mantel were among several items stolen from an Evelyn Place home, which was entered and ransacked Thursday afternoon between 12:30 and 3:15.

Also missing are an antique (pre-Civil War) opal ring in a diamond setting, two sterling silver candle holders, a sterling silver baby cup, an antique Tiffany china clock taken from an upstairs dresser, a silver-plated tray, teapot, sugar and creamer set from a living room dresser and $68 from a bedroom dresser drawer.

Police added that two pillow cases are missing and were probably used to carry the stolen items away.

A room in Green Hall on the university campus was entered Thursday and a $995 computer was stolen. Also missing are a printer worth $700 and a computer pack data set valued at $95. Police report the equipment is the property of the Psychology Department. Although the room was locked, there were no signs of forced entry.

A Nassau Street apartment was forced open Thuraday between 8:25 in the morning and 12:15 p.m.

There were two victims. One lost a $300 camera and lens and a $250 10-speed bicycle. The second lost a 10-speed bike, also valued at $250.

Apartment Entered. There was an entry and a burglary on Spring Street.

Police report that an apartment was entered — without force — between midnight and 10:20 Saturday morning. Taken were $20, a monogrammed belt buckle and a 1970 high school ring.

The burglary was reported at 11:48 Thursday morning, by a Spring Street apartment dweller, who told police that he was in the shower when he heard a noise at his door.

"Who's there?" he asked. "Is anyone home?" came a reply. The caller told police that he left the shower and saw a man going down the steps. As he did so, he noticed that the dead bolt had been ripped from the lock of his neighbor's door.

Doctors' Offices Entered. Township police report that two doctors' offices in the Princeton Professional Center on Mount Lucas Road were entered early last week. There were no signs of forced entry into the building or the offices.

Two typewriters were stolen from one office and a postage meter and typewriter from another.

MORE THAN MONEY

Firms Contribute to Campaign. RCA is printing 70,000 campaign brochures at no charge. An artist at RCA Astro-Electronics designed the brochure and an employee of Western Electric wrote the text.

Squibb is printing campaign posters, Educational Testing Service is printing campaign books and McGraw-Hill is printing flyers. And so it goes.

"Local business and other institutions are saving the United Way literally thousands of dollars in preparing campaign brochures, signs and other supplies," says Draig R. MacQueen, who is in charge of public relations for the $1,159,000 United Way-Red Cross campaign.

"What this means," Mr. Macqueen points out, "is that most of the money raised in the campaign can go directly to member agencies rather than pay the cost of raising the money."

Other contributors are Princeton University, which is painting six billboards; Princeton Bank, whose staff is helping the United Way start an advertising campaign, and RCA American Communications, where materials are being prepared for distribution to corporate editors.

CLASSES OFFERED

In SAT Preparation. The Rocky Hill Community Group will hold classes this fall to help prepare students to take the fall and winter SAT and PSAT college entrance examinations.

Classes will meet in the Rocky Hill Community House on Route 518 beginning Thursday, September 24, and continue through November 24 for 36 hours of instruction. Students will study Greek, Latin and Anglo-Saxon roots and prefixes, various test-taking techniques and work with recent SAT exams for practice. Vocabulary mastery will be stressed.

For further information call instructor Joan Carris at 921-6206 after 5, or the Community Group registrar, Janet Sykes, at 874-3251.

COORDINATOR NAMED

For Anti-Nuclear Group. The Coalition to Reverse the Nuclear Arms Race, 20 Nassau Street, has named the Rev. Robert Moore to the newly created post of administrative coordinator. Mr. Moore will leave his present position as national secretary of the Mobilization for Survival in Philadelphia to take up his new job in Princeton on Wednesday, September 9.

Mr. Moore is an ordained minister in the United Church of Christ, earned a B.S. in engineering from Purdue University in 1972 before studying at Hamma School of Theology, Springfield, Ohio, for his M.Div. degree. For the past three and one half years he has been in charge of administration, coordination, program development and fund raising for the Mobilization for Survival, a coalition of 140 peace, religious and community groups committed to stopping nuclear arms and power and funding basic human needs.

Reform of U.C.?

All business men and women in the Princeton area are invited to hear a talk on unemployment compensation reform, sponsored by the Princeton Chamber of Commerce. It will be given at a luncheon meeting next Wednesday, August 26, at noon at the Nassau Inn. Reservations, at $6 per person, may be made through the Chamber office, 921-7676.

The speaker, Eileen M. Measel, is assistant vice-president of the New Jersey Business and Industry Association. She will explain two bills now under consideration in the New Jersey Legislature: A-1035 and S-942. A member of the New Jersey bar, Ms. Measel holds a bachelor's degree in political science from Seton Hall University and the Juris Dictor from Seton Hall University Law School.

Mr. Moore was selected from 30 candidates for the position of administrative coordinator by a search committee headed by Len Newton. In accepting his new position, Mr. Moore said, "I look forward to working with the people in the Coalition and their involvement to reverse the nuclear arms race. President Reagan's plan to move forward with the production of the neutron bomb is another major step toward nuclear war which we must work to counteract."

Before joining the Mobilization for Survival, Mr. Moore was assistant pastor in a Washington, D.C., church and a part-time member of an ecumenical volunteer training and placement agency. He has worked with youth in both rural and urban settings, in social justice projects and in counseling.

The Coalition to Reverse the Nuclear Arms Race has been given a specific sum with which to employ a coordinator. The sum will cover a major portion of Mr. Moore's salary; the remaining balance and funds to cover office expenses will be raised in a membership drive and by special fund raising events.

Conference Planned. The Coalition currently has some 275 paid members and a care file of more than 600 interested individuals who have responded to newspaper ads and newsletter tear-off sheets. Dr. Wallace Alston, Jr., senior minister of Nassau Presbyterian Church, is chairman of the steering committee.

The Coalition plans a two-day teaching conference on the theme, "The Choice Is Ours: Confronting the Nuclear Arms Race," scheduled for Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon, September 26 and 27.

CHAPEL SERMON SET

Reformed Church Minister. The preacher at the 10 o'clock chancel service at the University Chapel on Sunday will be the Rev. John J. Debrecini, the Reformed Church of America of Teaneck. A native of New Jersey, Mr. Debrecini is an alumnus of Hope College, Western Theological Seminary, and the University of Edinburgh. His sermon topic will be "Turning the World Upside Down."

COURSE OFFERED

At Jewish Center. The Jewish Center of Princeton will be one of the off-campus sites of the Center for External Studies of Mercer County Community College. A philosophy course, taught by Professor Saul Goldwasser, is offered for the fall semester.

This course is an introduction to philosophical analysis through an examination of recurring problems in philosophy: the meaning of truth, mind and body; free will and determination; belief in God; the status of law; and the nature of reality, all viewed from the perspective of selected hypotheses of philosophers through history.

All residents of Mercer County or members of the Jewish Center who are 62 years or older may participate in this course, tuition exempt. The course will be held in the Bet-Am, 457 Nassau Street, Mondays and Wednesdays,

HOUSING NEED CITED

For W. Windsor Seniors. The West Windsor Commission On Aging and Senior Citizen Services has conducted a housing survey to estimate current and future housing needs of individuals ages 60 and older. Fifteen percent of the 600 seniors in West Windsor were surveyed. The results demonstrated the need to consider the construction of senior citizen housing in the immediate future.

Approximately 27 percent of the respondents indicated an immediate need for senior housing, and 52 percent indicated a need in the future. Based on this sample, it is likely that 200 units of housing could be utilized now or in the near future, by one third of those seniors presently residing in West Windsor.

Those seniors indicating an immediate need for housing were more likely to be women who were widowed and living alone. Nearly 50 percent of those living alone indicated an immediate interest in senior housing as contrasted with only 16 percent of those seniors living with someone else, such as a spouse or adult child. Also, of those who want housing immediately 63 percent estimated their monthly living expenses to fall between $200-$600 per month.

All but one person in the survey indicated an interest in remaining in West Windsor. Due to the lack of senior housing and increasing property taxes, many lifelong residents feel they will be forced to move. These individuals prefer to have the choice of remaining where they have lived for many years.

The results of the Senior Citizen housing questionnaire were analyzed by Tamerra Moeller, a developmental and clinical psychologist who has taught in the field of gerontology during the past five years at the University of Michigan. She has conducted training programs for professional and paraprofessional groups serving the elderly and she has had experience in individual and group therapy with older persons and their families. Dr. Moeller is also a member of the Commission On Aging and Senior Citizen Services.

Questions About MCCC?

Representatives of the admissions office of Mercer County Community College will be at the Community Booth, Quaker Bridge Mall, from 10 a.m. until 9:30 p.m. this Wednesday, Thursday and Friday to answer questions about admission, financial aid, study programs, life-experience credit and other related topics.

MCCC representatives will provide information about the college's varied programs, including flight technology, horticulture and land use management, architecture, telecommunications, nursing, engineering, funeral service education, computer science and others.

TOWN TOPICS is delivered without charge to every home in Princeton Borough and Township and to part or all of West Windsor, Lawrence, Hopewell, Montgomery, South Brunswick and Franklin Townships and Griggstown. At all newsstands, including TOWN TOPICS' office, it costs 25 cents.

BUG-OF-THE-WEEK

By J. Drew Foster, Entomologist

LACE BUGS

There are countless tiny insects present on your plants from spring to fall. Most of them are beneficial or insignificant to your landscape. However, there are a few that often go unnoticed until their damage manifests itself. If you've noticed oncoming stippling, chlorosis, and browning of leaves on your azaleas, rhododendrons, and sycamores, to name a few, you probably have lace bugs.

Lace bugs are tiny, delicate, sucking insects, well-named for the lacey appearance of their wings. They are about 1/8 inch long, black and white in color. They are generally found on the undersides of leaves where they feed. Chlorotic or stippled leaves with brown or black specks of excrement are sure signs of lace bugs.

The lace bugs attacking deciduous trees overwinter as adults in bark crevices. Those attacking evergreens overwinter as eggs laid in living leaves. They emerge and hatch, respectively, in May, and begin feeding. Several generations occur per year.

Lace bugs can be found now on azaleas and several other ornamentals. For infested evergreens, pesticide sprays now and again next May are recommended. Spray deciduous plants during the spring or early summer, as soon as the lace bugs appear. Contact and systemic sprays give the best control. Dormant oil sprays are generally not effective.

Call us for plant pest control and pest management consultation.

MEMORIAL ESTABLISHED

For Princeton Native. The Robert W. van de Velde, Jr., Memorial Lecture has been established at Middlebury College by family and friends of the Vermont radio broadcaster, who died suddenly in January.

A lecture-seminar will be held annually at the College and will focus on radio and media communications. It is designed to encourage a continuing relationship between the staffs at the College radio station and the Addison Broadcasting stations in Middlebury. The series will be open to the public.

Robert W. van de Velde, Jr., was born in Princeton, attended schools here and graduated from Princeton Day School. He went on to Middlebury where he was a member of the Class of 1975 and began his radio career on the staff of the college station.

He entered the field of commercial radio as a disc jockey at station WRFB in Stowe, Vt. He later became a newscaster and copywriter at Addison Broadcasting's stations in Middlebury and served as chief of the Vermont News Bureau for station WIPS of Ticonderoga, N.Y.

Mr. van de Velde was scheduled to return to Addison Broadcasting as a general copywriter and program director of WCVM in Middlebury the day he died of a heart attack.

Addison Broadcasting organized the establishment of the lecture series and enlisted the support of Rob's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R.W. van de Velde of Middlebury, his wife Diana of Weybridge, and friends.

Contributions to the Robert W. van de Velde Jr. '75 Memorial Lecture may be directed to Gordon C. Perine, Director of Deferred Giving, Development Office, Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vt. 05753.

AARP TRIP PLANNED

To Watchung View Inn. The American Association of Retired Persons of Princeton will sponsor a trip to the Watchung View Inn on Wednesday, September 23, for a performance of "My Three Angels."

The cost for the trip, dinner, and the show will be $18 per person. For information call Jenny Cortese Jackson at 924-4787.

CONTRACT EXTENDED

At Plasma Physics Lab. Princeton University has signed a contract with the Department of Energy for the continued operation of the Princeton Plasma Physics Laboratory. The five-year contract will extend to September 30, 1986.

DOE and its predecessor agencies have funded PPPL, one of the nation's leading fusion energy research and development facilities, since 1951. The laboratory is located on the James Forrestal Campus of Princeton University in Plainsboro.

Currently PPPL is one of four major DOE-supported magnetic fusion energy facilities, employing 1,300 workers. The laboratory's mission is to produce and control thermonuclear fusion, thus providing an environmentally attractive source of electrical energy.

The Princeton Large Torus (PLT) is currently one of the largest operating fusion devices in the country and the first in the world to approach the 100-million degree temperature needed for a fusion reactor. Another major device at PPPL, the Poloidal Divertor Experiment (PDX), is designed to test ways of controlling impurities in the plasma.

The Tokamak Fusion Test Reactor (TFTR) now under construction at Forrestal is scheduled for completion in 1982. At a total cost of $314 million, initial experiments will produce plasmas of hydrogen or deuterium. Plasma heating with high-powered beams of neutral atoms will be added to the TFTR in 1983. Ensuing experiments using deuterium and tritium are expected to produce an amount of fusion power equal to the power required to heat the plasma.

DOE, the sole funding source of PPPL, is currently providing $85 million annually in addition to the TFTR construction funds. Funding under the contract is expected to remain above the $100 million level as TFTR enters experimental operation.

PEOPLE In The News

Michaele E. Wurzler of 548 Nassau Street received a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration degree, cum laude, from Boston University's School of Management. She majored in business administration and management.

Airman tst class Scott Milner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Milner of 201 Loetscher Place, has graduated from the U.S. Air Force security police specialist course at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

Graduates of the course studied security and law enforcement and earned credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

Professor Walter R. Johnson of 243 Ewing Street has been named to head a major new program in Zimbabwe for Oxfam America, the Boston-based, non-profit, international development agency.

Dr. Johnson, a member of the operating board of the Witherspoon-Jackson Development Corporation and a former member of the Planning Board, has served for several years on the board of directors of Oxfam. He has nearly 20 years of experience with Africa working in foreign assistance, academic policy analysis, and business. He is taking a two-year leave from his post as chairman of African studies at Rutgers University to assume his new position at Oxfam America. After a six-month planning and organization period at the agency's Boston headquarters, Dr. Johnson will move to Zimbabwe's capital of Salisbury.

Oxfam America's program in Zimbabwe will be consistent with the agency's self-help development assistance in other regions of the world. Executive Director Joe Short said, "Dr. Johnson's role will be to facilitate Zimbabwean participation in planning and implementing a distinctive aid program and to set up means by which Americans can learn from the Zimbabwe development experience."

Charles A. Lynch of Stetson Way has been named technical director for synthetic lubricants and fluids at Hatco Chemical Corporation, Fords. Dr. Lynch is a graduate of Manhattan College and holds a Ph.D. in organic chemistry from the University of Notre Dame. He was most recently employed by American Oil & Supply co.

Dr. James A. Lanier of the New Jersey Marine Sciences Consortium, 101 College Road East, was installed as president of the National Marine Education Association at its annual meeting in Galveston, Texas.

The association has 11 chapters across the nation, including the New Jersey Marine Education Association. Its members include teachers, administrators, and others concerned with improving our understanding and appreciation of our oceans, estuaries, lakes and rivers.

Dr. Lanier directs the educational programs of the New Jersey Marine Sciences Consortium, with headquarters in Princeton. The Consortium offers summer courses and field trips for all ages at its two field stations at Sandy Hook and Seaville, and coordinates marine research, education and advisory services for New Jersey.

League of Women Voters vice president and energy chair Dorothy K. Powers of 152 Westcott Road was appointed to serve as a member of the United States delegation to the United Nations Conference on New and Renewable Sources of Energy in Nairobi, Kenya, August 10-21.

The conference, aimed at encouraging the development and use of renewable energy resources worldwide, will concentrate on 14 energy sources ranging from fuelwood to oil shale. Drawing delegates from all UN member states, the conference is charged with devising a program of action to help provide the world with a sustainable, diversified and permanent energy base.

Now in her second term as energy chair on the League's national board of directors, Mrs. Powers has overseen numerous education projects and legislative activities on renewable energy sources. She has also represented the League on the U.S. Department of Energy's Energy Policy Task Force.

Mrs. Powers has been a member of the League since 1956 and has held leadership posts in local Leagues in Georgia, Florida and New Jersey. A former president of the New Jersey State League, she has served on numerous state commissions, including the New Jersey Corrections

Mark Bothwell

Eli Gilboa

American Cancer Society grants totalling more than $240,000 have been awarded to two Princeton University research scientists seeking clues to cancer-causing action in human cells.

Eli Gilboa of 67 Stanworth Lane, an assistant professor of Biochemical Sciences, has received $150,000 for a period of two years to study the molecular mechanism by which cancer-causing viruses invade and interact with healthy cells. Using genetic engineering, Dr. Gilboa seeks to identify and isolate the DNA, or information-bearing fragment, of a virus whose interaction with the cellular genes is crucial in producing an oncogenic (cancerous) response.

Mark Bothwell, also an assistant professor of Biochemistry, has been awarded $96,184 to study epidermal and nerve growth factors in order to determine which defects or changes might cause cancer to develop. Dr. Bothwell seeks to learn how a tumor virus' imitation of growth factor hormone action can be linked to the onset of cancer in host cells.

A graduate of Hebrew University in Jerusalem, Dr. Gilboa received his Doctor of Philosophy Degree from the Weisman Institute in Israel. After coming to the United States, he was affiliated with the Massachusetts Institute of Technology's Center for Cancer Research, working with Dr. David Baltimore, recipient of a Nobel Prize for cancer research.

Dr. Bothwell, a resident of Ringoes, graduated from the University of Michigan, received his Ph.D. from the University of California at Berkeley and did postdoctoral work at Stanford University before coming to Princeton.

Marine Lance Cpl. Charles L. Robotti, son of Alfred E. and Carol S. Robotti of 157 Washington St., Rocky Hill, has reported for duty with Headquarters Squadron, Marine Corps Helicopter, Air Station New River, Jacksonville, N.C.

Airman Steven L. Otto, son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Otto of 1154 Stuart Road, has been assigned to Lowry Air Force Base, Colo., after completing Air Force basic training. At Lackland Air Force Base, Tex., the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree in applied sciepce through the Community College of the Air Force.

He will now receive specialized instruction in the supply field. He is a 1975 graduate of Pittsfield High School, Pittsfield, Mass.

Area residents who will be returning to Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa., to resume classes in September include John and William Sapock, sons of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Sapoch Jr. of 4 Hawthorne Avenue; Marilyn A. Coats, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Walter Coats of 28 East Delaware Avenue, Pennington; Marta M. Cano, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter D. Bialas of 9 Shadowstone, Lawrenceville.

The state Commissioner of Labor and Industry has requested Morton Dietz, Esq., president of the New Jersey Association of Attorney-Certified Public Accountants, for assistance in the implementation of a recent legislative enactment.

The Worker Owned Corporation Study Act, enacted by the N.J. Legislature and approved by Governor Byrne, directs the department of Labor and Industry to conduct a study as to the best means of providing encouragement and assistance to the formulation of employee stock ownership plans. The responsibility for the study has been assigned to the office of Economic Research in the Division of Planning and Research, which in turn has asked the N.J. Associations of Attorney-CPAs for assistance.

Four area residents have earned graduate and undergraduate degrees from Washington University, St. Louis.

Donald C. Thiel Jr., of RD 518, Skillman, was awarded the Doctor of Dental Medicine; Christopher J. Looby, son of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas F. HENDERSON APPOINTED

To Videodisc Position. The appointment of John G.N. Henderson of Princeton as head of signal systems research has been announced by Jon K. Clemens, director of the VideoDisc systems research laboratory at RCA Laboratories in Princeton.

A native of Philadelphia, Mr. Henderson received a B.S.E.E. degree in 1967 from the University of Pennsylvania and an M.S.E. degree in 1969 from Princeton University. He joined RCA Laboratories after graduation.

He has received four RCA Laboratories outstanding achievement awards for work on an all-electronic, all channel television IF filters, for contributions leading to a new digital television tuning system employing frequency synthesis, and for contributions to the development of new television systems.

Eta Kappa Nu, national electrical engineering honor society, named Mr. Henderson as the outstanding young electrical engineer of 1977. He and his wife, the former Nancy M. Fisher of Philadelphia, live at 43 Fieldston Road.

John G.N. Henderson

ACCOUNTANTS CITED

In International Competition. The Princeton Chapter of the National Association of Accountants finished in the top 25 places in an international competition held by NAA for chapters with outstanding performance records. Two hundred and four chapters having 125 or more members competed during the 1980-'81 competition.

The Princeton Chapter was fifth in the competition, highest ranking among New Jersey Council. The 314-member chapter, which has been a recipient of previous competition awards, was led to victory this year by chapter president Arthur L. Rouselle Jr.

The competition is designed to encourage chapters to offer educational and professional benefits to its members. Chapter performance is measured in several activity areas such as technical meetings, seminars, plant tours, membership growth and retention, public relations, educational programs and services to the community.

RCA WINS CONTRACT

For Satellite System. RCA has been awarded a contract of more than $100 million to build the three-satellite "GSTAR" communications system for the GTE Satellite Corp.

The GTE contract covers three K-band communications satellites, two tracking and telementery stations, a satellite operational control center and training of GTE personnel.

Each GSTAR satellite will have 16 channels operating at the 14-12 GHz band, and provide coverage of the 48 contiguous states by shaped beam. Alaska and Hawaii will be covered by spot beams. The first GSTAR launch has been scheduled for 1984.

"These satellites are based on the RCA Satcom communications satellites which have been operating in orbit successfully for more than five years," said Charles A. Schmidt, division vice president and general manager of RCA Astro-Electronics.

FIRM EXPANDS

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

John Bernard Jay Bernard

STURHAHN, DICKENSON & BERNARD

Incredibly, a man once pitched a no-hitter in a professional baseball game even though a batter hit a double against him ... How is that possible? ... Sid Monge, now with Cleveland, pitched a no-hitter in the Midwest League in 1971 although Hector Cruz got a double off him during that game ... Cruz hit a double against the fence — but failed to touch first base on his way to second ... Therefore, Cruz was ruled out and had the hit taken away from him ... Monge allowed no other hits, and thus pitched a no-hitter even though he gave up a hit!

Which is the only National Football League team that plays its regular-season home games in TWO different cities? ... Answer is Green Bay which plays some home games in Green Bay and some in Milwaukee.

See if you can name this unusual husband-and-wife combination in sports ... He was a home run king in baseball and his wife was a national champion in tennis ... Who was this husband-and-wife combination? ... The husband was Ralph Kiner who led the majors in home runs in 1950, 1951 and 1952 — the same years his wife, Nancy Chaffee Kiner, won various national women's singles championships in tennis.

58 Seconds Was a Magical Number for Tiger Teams Last Year

by H. F. "Pink" Baker

These are four 58-second stories that all happened last year in Princeton University sports.

In the 1980 contest between the Princeton and Yale freshman football teams, the Tigers led 25-21 until Yale, as is its wont, scored with less than a minute (58 seconds, to be exact) left on the clock. That made the score 28-25 Yale. Princetoo lined up to receive the ensuing kick-off, with only a long shot remaining for a victory.

Enter little Joey Brooks, a 147 lb. running back from Baldwin, Michigan, without much playing time under his belt. He was the deep man on the kick-off, with Brad Urschel on one side and Joe McErlean on the other.

Yale, apparently believing Brooks to be the easy mark, kicked to him. Joey, however, was ready. On the kick-off he nervously fumbled the football as the Yale tacklers converged upon him.

A wild scramble ensued among the greedy Bulldogs, but it was all for naught. Joey somehow regained possession, though no one will ever be quite sure how he did it.

Only three men now remained between him and a touchdown. Urshel took out one, McErlean the other, and Joey dodged the third, which he learned as a Baldwin Michigan halfback in high school.

No Lightning Bolts. Yale has a tendency, through no fault of its own, to pull games out at the last minute, but this day, on the freshman level at least, belonged to Princeton. No lightning bolt issued from the heavens to strike the ball carrier down.

No earthquake opened an unbridgeable chasm between Joey Brooks and the goal line and no hurricane swept him off the field. He found paydirt and Princeton won 32-28. Hurray for Joey and the Frosh.

The 58-second saga continues in varsity hockey against Harvard. With the score tied, the Harvard coach pulled his goalie and inserted a sixth player to try to score. With 58 seconds left in the game a Princeton player, Drew Forbes, was tripped up and fell flat on his face on the ice.

The puck was coming his way so he took a big swipe at the disc with his stick and sent it scaling down into the open goal. We win.

In varsity basketball against Rutgers the score was tied with 58 seconds to go and Princeton had the ball out of bounds. Dave Blatt, co-captain, sent the ball in court only to get it back immediately.

Now Rutgers is not dumb, so they covered each one of our players, which meant Dave had no one to pass it to. He had to weave and bounce the ball down to about the foul shooting line. His teammates could not get free to help so Dave tried for a field goal and was fouled so viciously that the officials simply had to call a foul as Dave landed on the floor on his back.

Naturally Coach Carril was given a time out so his player could recover from the shock. Now the 58 seconds were down to four seconds. Dave made the two foul shots and Rutgers threw the ball into the crowded stands. We win again.

Revenge in Lacrosse. The highlight for women's lacrosse came against Harvard. In the regular season, Harvard beat the Tigers 11-4, but Princeton had a chance for revenge at the National Women's Lacrosse Tournament. For a while it seemed as if this chance would be wasted as Princeton fell behind 3-1.

This deficit was made up early in the second half, but Princeton fell behind again 6-3. Finally, with just one minute left, the score was tied at 6-6 with a goal by Anne Evaul.

Harvard's coeds obtained control of the ball and with 58 seconds to go they fouled, giving possession to Princeton. At this point coach Betty Logan sent in freshman Kris Brower. As Wiz Lippincott and Natalie Bocock worked the ball downfield with a series of very skillful passes, Brower slipped unnoticed toward the Harvard net. With the 58 second times running out Lippincott passed the ball over everybody's head to Brower, and Kris sent it into the Harvard net for the winning score.

In the words of one disillusioned member of the coed Harvard team, "I can't believe you girls were able to pull it out!"

H.F. "Pink" Baker, a member of the Princeton class of 1922, describes himself as the No. 1 Princeton sports fan for the last 25-30 years. His special love is freshman football. "If you want to have fun, watch Princeton sports," Pink says. "You will get more than your money's worth, especially in the last 58 seconds."

MIKE'S TAVERN VICTOR

In Softball Playoff. Mike's Tavern, winner of the regular season in the Princeton Women's Softball League with a 15-1 record, also won the playoff championship last week when it defeated third-place Andy's Tavern, two games to none, in the best-of-three series.

Gary Grover, reqpresenting the Princeton Recreation Board, presented trophies to Mike's manager Warren Huff for first place in the league and playoffs and to Andy's manager Bob Smyth for runner-up in the playoff and third place in the league.

In the second game Friday, Mike's was forced to go 11 innings before capturing a 7-4 decision. The winning runs came off hits by Lorraine Duthie, the winning pitcher, Clare Baxter and Dee Pearce. Pearce batted 3-for-4.

Andy's had tied the game at 4 in the sixth when, with two out and two runners on, Maureen Nosal drove in Marty Heard. Consecutive singles by Danna Woodruff and Tracey Armiger then scored Marie Wszolek, Nosal and Woodruff.

Mike's had scored two runs in the sixth when Debbie Ficarro drove in Kathy Shillaber and Baxter, one in the second and one in the first when it capitalized on four Andy errors.

In the opening game, Andy's was able to field only nine players (one less than the allowable 10) due to injuries and Mike's breezed to a 15-1 victory. The Mike batters had a field day hitting to the open areas, scoring eight runs in the second and sending four more across the plate in the fourth.

BERNINI EXHIBIT SET

At University Museum. An Exhibition of drawings by Gianlorenzo Bernini from the collection of the Museum der Bildenden Kunste in Leipzig opens at the Princeton University Art Museum on Sunday, October 4. The exhibition, organized by Princeton University, will be circulated to five other American museums under the auspices of the International Exhibitions Foundation in Washington, D.C.

Gianlorenzo Bernini (1598-1680) dominated the Roman artistic milieu in the 17th century. He was a brilliant sculptor and architect, as well as a painter and dramatist. The 79 drawings in the exhibition, which probably came from the artist's own collection, represent some of the most important of Bernini's sculptural projects.

The works constitute the largest single group of Bernini drawings; they span most of the artist's long career; and they represent a wide range of draftsmanship, from preparatory sketches to finished studies and presentation drawings. In the course of recent restoration, the drawings were removed from a bound volume, revealing a number of studies on the versos of the sheets, which have now attracted scholarly attention. This exhibition will be the first time the drawings have been exhibited outside of Leipzig.

The exhibition was conceived and the catalogue has been edited by Irving Lavin, professor at the Institute for Advanced Study at Princeton, who also teaches in Princeton University's Department of Art and Archaeology. Professor Lavin is the foremost living Bernini scholar, whose most recent work on the artist is "Bernini and the Unity of the Visual Arts." In the preparation of the catalogue, Prof. Lavin has been assisted by six graduate students — four from Princeton and two from the Institute of Fine Arts, New York University.

The catalogue is fully illustrated, with more than 100 comparative works shown in addition to the 79 drawings in the exhibition, many double-sided. There are extensive narrative entries, with the drawings presented in relation to the final works for which they were executed. Several drawings are published for the first time, and many are re-evaluated in terms of Bernini's working methods and in relation to the specific projects. The catalogue will be published by the Princeton University Art Museum in association with Princeton University Press.

After the Princeton showing, which ends November 15, the exhibition will travel to the Cleveland Museum of Art; the Los Angeles County Museum of Art; the Kimbell Art Museum, Fort Worth; the Indianapolis Museum of Art; and the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston.

This project has been supported by a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts in Washington, D.C., a Federal agency, and by an indemnity from the Federal Council on the Arts and the Humanities.

TOWN TOPICS is delivered without charge to every home in Princeton Borough and Township and to part or all of West Windsor, Lawrence, Hopewell, Montgomery, South Brunswick and Franklin Townships and Griggstown. At all newsstands, including TOWN TOPICS' office, it costs 25 cents.

FALL SEASON TO START

In Tennis. Although the Princeton Community Tennis Program has completed its summer classes, juniors and adults may begin or continue tennis lessons beginning in September.

The fall session will run Sept. 14 through Oct. 23. Outdoor classes will be available to beginner-intermediate players.

In addition to the regular fall classes, the Community Program will run a men's and women's round robin doubles for players with ratings of 3.0-4.5. There will also be a special class for senior citizens 55 and over.

All Princeton residents will receive the Princeton Community Tennis Program's fall-winter brochure, which gives further details about the fall season. Those who live outside the Princeton area and have not taken lessons may call the Tennis Office at 924-4343 to be placed on the mailing list.

TEAM FINISHES 14-0

In Junior Tennis. The junior tennis team, sponsored by the Princeton Community Tennis Program, has finished its season with a perfect 14-0 record.

OBITUARIES

F. Leicester Cuthbert, 68, of 241 Hamilton Avenue, died August 11 in Princeton Medical Center. He was the retired associate director of corporate research and development for N.J. Industries Inc. of Hightstown.

Born in Buffalo, N.Y., Mr. Cuthbert lived in Princeton for the past 20 years. He received his bachelor of arts degree in mineralogy from the State University in New York at Buffalo in 1935 and in 1937 his master of arts. He was awarded a doctorate in mineralogy and soils from Iowa State University in 1940.

Mr. Cuthbert was a research associate at the University of Illinois from 1940-44 and a research fellow at Princeton University from 1944-45.

For the next six years he was manager of the research and development department of the Baroid Division of N.L. Industries. He was associated with National Lead of Ohio from 1951-62 and returned to N.L. Industries in 1962 as associate director of corporate research and development, retiring in 1973.

After his retirement, Mr. Cuthbert served as a consultant for the I.R.I. Research Corporation in New York City and for Mary Errickson Associates of Lawrenceville. At the time of his death he was a consultant with the U.S. Department of Energy and Environment.

Mr. Cuthbert was a member of the Industrial Research Institute, the American Chemical Society, the American Management Association, the American Ordnance Association and the American Society for Testing and materials.

He also belonged to the N.J. Council for Research and Development, the N.Y. Academy of Sciences, the Princeton Chamber of Commerce, and the West University Masonic Lodge of Houston.

Surviving are his wife, Midge Cuthbert; two daughters, Miss Sandra Cuthbert of Princeton and Mrs. Pamela Powley of Peoria, Ill.; a son, Steven Cuthbert of Atlanta; and two grandchildren.

A memorial service was held at the Kimble Funeral Home. Memorial contributions may be made to Princeton Medical Center.

Annis L. Young, 59, of 127 Wilson Road, died August 16.

Born in New York, Mrs. Young moved to Princeton in 1958. She devoted a great deal of energy to the Princeton Public Library, serving as a volunteer tutor for adult illiterates. "She was one of our most gifted tutors," said Sue Rock, assistant director of the Library.

Surviving are her husband, Charles W. Young; two daughters, Rebecca A. Young and Deborah M. Young, both of New York; and Charles W. Young III, at home.

A memorial service will be held Saturday at 11 a.m. in the Princeton University Chapel.

Clement Spiller, 75, of Philadelphia, father of Arlene Berman of Princeton, died August 10 in Philadelphia.

Also surviving are a son, Byron, of Philadelphia; three brothers; one sister; and five granddaughters.

Tax Appeals

Princeton taxpayers who planned to withhold their taxes, have been jolted to learn that the tax board disqualifies your appeal if taxes are still due at the time of your hearing.

This has aroused Martin P. Lombardo, co-chairman of the new Princeton Township-Borough Tax Revolt Committee. He has been handling the case of an 85-year-old Borough home-owner whose taxes jumped from $2,600 to $5,600 and who does not have the money for his August payment.

"The county had better get its act together," Mr. Lombardo declared. "I intend to argue the point that the county is not responsive to people's problems. It's a dumb, outdated law."

This group is now telling people to pay their first quarter taxes. But, with the law firm of Pellettieri, Rabstein and Altman, Mr. Lombardo and his co-chairman, George Pinelli, are working on ways people can defer their tax payments. They also have Certified Public Accountant Louis Parker III.

At a meeting last Friday in the North Harrison firehouse, and in the days since that time, they have collected $2,150 to pay for these experts, Mr. Lombardo said. The co-chairmen asked for $25 contributions.

With the staff of Princeton Bank, the Tax Revolt Committee has been discussing ways taxpayers might pool their money for maximum interest, while they let the tax collector wait. Mr. Lombardo said the group has also talked about holding fund-raising events for people who cannot pay the interest charged by Borough and Township for delinquent taxes.

Suits All Around. The Committee wants to file class action suits against the Jacobs firm, whose employees did the revaluation, and also against Borough and Township governing bodies. The charge would be breach of contract.

"We want to attack the whole assessment, throw out the whole revaluation," Mr. Lombardo said.

Meanwhile, the Township still has not heard from Jacobs about the company's $92 million error in the overall assessed valuation computed for the Township last fall. Although the mistake was corrected as work on the budget proceeded, it gave many taxpayers a false idea of how much they might owe in taxes when the 1981 bills came out.

"I haven't been able to reach Jacobs, and neither has Ed Schmierer (Township attorney)," said Township Administrator Joseph R. Nini. "We have two telephone numbers. One is always busy. On the other, we get an answer, but all we can do is leave a message and nobody ever returns our calls. Ed wrote to Jacobs before leaving on vacation, but there has been no reply."

If the Township finds clerical errors in your tax record, Mr. Nini explained, the Township itself will make the correction through the state tax court.

Whether Borough and Township might, themselves, sue the Jacobs firm is still not determined. It is August. Township Committee won't meet until September 9; Borough Council, not until August 27.

Jacobs Low Bidder. Mr. Nini explained that Jacobs was chosen by both Township and Borough because it was, in the language of the law, "the lowest, responsible bidder." The firm bid $115,172 for both municipalities. The other bidders were J.M. Cleminshaw Co. at $122,100 and Automated Valuation Services, Inc. for $141,945.

The two governing bodies checked out communities where Jacobs had worked, asking about the quality of personnel, the quality of work, whether they met deadlines and so on. A report about the firm has been submitted to the state, Mr. Nini said.

The actual final contract with Jacobs had to be approved by the New Jersey Department of Community Affairs. Sidney Glaser, director of the DCA at that time, signed the contract on February 15, 1979, Mr. Nini said.

Mr. Lombardo, smarting under Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley's charge that he bore a responsibility for the present situation because he "blocked" revaluation for many years, said "It was hypocritical of Cawley to pin it on me. He knows the number one issue is taxes. He knew what the negative impact of revaluation would be, and he knew I was acting on the wishes of the citizens when I opposed revaluation."

Mayor Cawley said last week that, if the Borough had not waited 17 years for a revaluation but had undertaken it in the early 1970's — when Mr. Lombardo sat on Council — the impact would not have been so severe.

LIP READING CLASS SET

By Medical Center. The Communication Disorders Unit of The Medical Center at Princeton is organizing a speech reading (lip reading) class to begin the week of September 14.

The class will be designed to include recognition of the various lip postures involved in sound formation; speech reading everyday words and phrases, and developing conversational and situational speech reading skills. It will be conducted by Patricia Bokan, speech and language pathologist at the Merwick Unit of The Medical Center.

The course will be conducted for 10 weeks and will meet for 1½ hour sessions. The day and time of the course will be dependant upon community response.

For registration or further information, call 734-4616.

COLLECT ANTIQUES?

Kingston Show Ptenned. A show and sale of antiques and collectibles will be held in Kingston under the sponsorship of the Kingston Business Association on Saturday, September 19 (rain-date: Sunday).

The show and sale will provide an exhibition area for dealers in antiques from throughout New Jersey. Sponsors of the show expect exhibits of toys, dolls, china, glass, primitives, brass, silver and wood.

Those who are interested in participating as exhibitors are asked to confer with the two co-ordinators; Phyllis Kane, of Full House, at 924-4040 or Mary Etta Owen, of Owen's Antiques at 921-7164.
